Local restaurants donate 15% of sales on August 21 to Humane Society of Charlotte

Eat, drink, and save lives!

CHARLOTTE, AUGUST 20, 2018 - The Humane Society of Charlotte (HSC) will host a new event, Restaurants for Rescues, in partnership with local Charlotte restaurants. On August 21, participating restaurants have agreed to donate 15% of sales back to the Humane Society of Charlotte.

This first-ever event helps give back to the Charlotte community by supporting the Humane Society of Charlotte, a fixture in the community for more than 40 years. Patrons can eat breakfast, lunch, dinner, get take-out, or have drinks at any of the participating restaurants in order to get in on the fun.

"By dining out on August 21, the community is directly helping support our mission of delivering effective, innovative services to our animal-loving community. We want this event to be a success for everyone involved and hope it can continue in the years to come," - Kirsten Beals, Special Events Manager, Humane Society of Charlotte.

In case Charlotte needs additional reasons to justify eating out on August 21, HSC has provided some helpful reasons for Charlottean's use:

1. Celebrate heading back to school with dinner out for the family!
2. Cheers to the end of summer, it won't be 100 degrees for too much longer.
3. Practice your buffalo wing-eating skills. Panther season is just around the corner.
4. There's nothing good to eat at home and no one wants cereal.
5. Charlotte restaurants are the best around!
6. You've been grilling all summer, you deserve a break! Also you're out of propane.
7. Tuesday is the best day to eat out, it's a fact.
8. You do so much - let someone serve you dinner on Tuesday night.
9. You've officially run out of ideas of what to do with chicken.
10. Food is love. Love HSC & love animals.

The Humane Society of Charlotte's Restaurant for Rescues officially kicks off on Tuesday, August 21. View the interactive Google map to find participating restaurants near you: Restaurants for Rescues Map.

Our vision is for Charlotte to be a united community where animal welfare is valued and demonstrated through educated and collaborative efforts leading to positive outcomes for animals. The Humane Society of Charlotte follows a no-kill philosophy, which is based on saving all animals that come to us and relies on the generous support of animal-loving individuals in our community to fund our work, along with low-cost fees for adoption, spay/neuter and wellness services.
